Guest Lecture on Law for Womens Harassment at Work Place

Kamla Nehru College of Pharmacy had organized a guest lecture on Law for Womens Harassment at Work Place for undergraduate and post-graduate students on 27/02/2017. The speaker for the lecture was Dr. Adv. Leena Landage, Professor, Govindrao Wanjari College of Law, New Nandanvan , Nagpur. Dr. Landage is specialized in Hindu Law and have 12 years of teaching experience. Dr. Jagdish R. Baheti, Principal, KNCP, welcomed and felicitated Dr. Leena Landage. Ms. Disha M. Dhabarde, Assistant Professor, KNCP, introduced the speaker and the topic of the lecture to the students.

In her lecture Dr. Landage focused on the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act 2013 ("the Act"). She discussed the activities that amount to sexual harassment at the workplace. It creates an insecure and hostile work environment, which discourage women's participation in work, thereby adversely affecting their social and economic empowerment and the goal of inclusive growth. Such harassment at the workplace is considered as violation of women's right to equality, life and liberty.

The lecture was attended by 115 students and 9 Faculty members. The vote of thanks was given by a class representative of B. Pharm. Final year. Ms. Kavita R. Pandey, Assistant Professor, KNCP, presented a token of appreciation to the guest speaker. As per the feedback received from the participants it was an enlightening talk, the lecture sensitized the girls and boys in their understanding the law related to women's harassment.

Dr. Landage interacted with our students and staff. She assured that such interaction helps to create awareness in the young minds.

Guest Lecture on DNA and Protein Isolation

A guest lecture on DNA and Protein Isolation was organized by Kamla Nehru College of Pharmacy for the students of B. Pharm. Final year on 28/01/2017. The speaker for the lecture was Dr. Sandhya Moghe, Professor and Head, Department of Biotechnology, Kamla Nehru College, Sakkardara, Nagpur. Dr. Moghe is specialized in Biotechnological techniques and having 17 years of experience in teaching. Dr. Jagdish R. Baheti, Principal, KNCP, welcomed and felicitated Dr. Sandhya Moghe for the guest lecture. Mr. Abhishek Kanugo, Assistant Professor, KNCP, introduced the speaker and the topic of the lecture to the students.

In her lecture Dr. Moghe discussed the isolation of DNA and protein is the basic method used in molecular biology. Manual method has certainly come a long way over time with various commercial offerings which included complete kits containing most of the components needed to isolate nucleic acid, but most of them require repeated centrifugation steps, followed by removal of supernatants depending on the type of specimen and additional mechanical treatment. Automated systems designed for medium-to-large laboratories have grown in demand over recent years. It is an alternative to labor-intensive manual methods. The technology should allow a high throughput of samples; the yield, purity, reproducibility, and scalability of the biomolecules as well as the speed, accuracy, and reliability of the assay should be maximal, while minimizing the risk of cross-contamination.

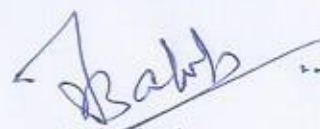

The lecture was attended by 51 students and 6 Faculty members. The vote of thanks was given by a class representative of B. Pharm. Final year and Mr. Mangesh D. Godbole, Assistant Professor, KNCP, presented a small token of appreciation to our valuable guests. As per the feedback received from the participants it was very good learning experience, the lecture helped them in their understanding DNA and Protein isolation.

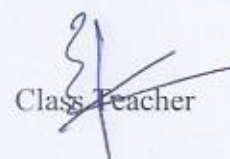

Dr. Moghe Madam also enjoyed interacting with our students and staff and she also expressed and assured that such type of collaborative activities will strengthen our MoU and knowledge sharing.

The speaker for the lecture was Dr. Sunita Gadegone, Professor and Head, Department of Chemistry, Kamla Nehru College, Sakkardara, Nagpur. Dr. Gadegone is specialized in Synthesis of Organic Compounds and having 19 years of experience in teaching. Dr. Jagdish R. Baheti, Principal, KNCP, welcomed and felicitated Dr. Sunita Gadegone for the guest lecture. Ms. Disha M. Dhabarde, Assistant Professor, KNCP, introduced the speaker and the topic of the lecture to the students.

In her lecture Dr. Gadegone discussed the various heterocyclic compounds.. She also introduced the participants to many preparation and reactions involved in the heterocyclic compounds. She further added about the various mechanisms involved in the preparation and reaction of heterocyclic compounds. She shared her own experiences about the synthetic applications of heterocyclic compounds.

The lecture was attended by 47 students and 4 Faculty members. The vote of thanks was given by a class representative of B. Pharm. II year. and Dr. Parimal P. Katolkar, Associate Professor, KNCP, presented a small token of appreciation to our valuable guests. As per the feedback received from the participants it was very good learning experience, the lecture helped them in their understanding heterocyclic compounds.

Interaction session with the students and staff was enjoyed by Dr. Gadegone and she also expressed and assured that such type of collaborative activities will strengthen our MoU and knowledge sharing.

Guest Lecture on Enzyme Immobilization

A guest lecture on Enzyme Immobilization was organized by Kamla Nehru College of Pharmacy for the students of B. Pharm. Final year on 10/02/2018. The speaker for the lecture was Dr. Sandhya Moghe, Professor and Head, Department of Biotechnology, Kamla Nehru College, Sakkardara, Nagpur. Dr. Moghe is specialized in Biotechnological techniques and having 17 years of experience in teaching. Dr. Jagdish R. Baheti, Principal, KNCP, welcomed and felicitated Dr. Sandhya Moghe for the guest lecture. Mr. Abhishek Kanugo, Assistant Professor, KNCP, introduced the speaker and the topic of the lecture to the students.

In her lecture Dr. Moghe discussed Enzyme immobilization as a widespread empiric technology to achieve more stable, active and reusable enzymes. She describe relevant approaches to rationalize the design of enzyme immobilization protocols, with special attention to the modulation of immobilization pH to regulate the operational stability of glutaraldehyde cross-linked enzymes and the coating of iron-containing supports to preserve the integrity of iron-sensitive enzymes. Finally, a public repository creation is proposed as a new promising tool to develop an improvement on future rational design procedures of enzyme immobilization.

The lecture was attended by 55 students and 6 Faculty members. The vote of thanks was given by a class representative of B. Pharm. Final year and Mr. Mangesh D. Godbole, Assistant Professor, KNCP, presented a small token of appreciation to our valuable guests. As per the feedback received from the participants it was very good learning experience, the lecture helped them in their understanding Enzyme Immobilization.

Dr. Moghe expressed gratitude and appreciated our students and staff for wonderful interaction. She assured that cooperation will be extended when needed for the students and knowledge sharing.
